Explosive Magazines Which Caused Protest

The concrete "Pill Box" and wooden shack, used for the storage of dynamite, black powder and percussion caps, located in the new Penn Valley section off Centennial Road, not far from the Township Dump. Approximately three to four hundred pounds of black powder are stored in the wooden shack and a similar amount of dynamite is stored in the pill box, according to police. Others claim that the maximum quantity sometimes stored is many times this amount.

Dynamite and Powder Magazine in Penn Valley Section Causes Apprehension, Protests

Investigation Begun by Police Head Following Official Protest

TOWNSHIP LEASES PLOT

Realization that a magazine, used for the storage of tremendous quantities of powder and dynamite, is located within the boundaries of the new Penn Valley section, has caused apprehension and a flood of protests from residents of that community and the eastern end of the Main Line.

The magazine is situated near the middle of the Penn Valley development, off Centennial Road, about a mile north of Narberth, and not over five hundred feet from the township dump. It is on ground owned by Lower Merion Township and leased by the Scott Supply Company, 4459 Main Street, West Manayunk. It is understood that the lease has seven years to run.

In a letter to Frank Mancill, a member of the executive committee of the Penn Valley Association and Commissioner from the General Wayne District, Guy Croyle, Narberth contractor, who is building a new home about 1000 feet from the explosive magazine, said, "A tremendous amount of high explosives are kept there and while I am sure every precaution is taken to protect them it seems very dangerous as there is a fire going most of the time on the township dump. The danger I have in mind might be caused by a fanatic or by men loading or unloading the explosives or by a grass fire getting beyond control of fire companies."

Examination of the ground surrounding the wooden shack, used as an overflow storage magazine for the concrete pill box, shows a ring of burnt grass within two feet of the building. Mr.

Cut Down Turnabout; to Be New Bus Stop

Work was commenced this week in cutting down the green plot at Haverford Avenue and the Narberth Station. All within a radius of three feet of the tree in the middle will be removed, a cement wall will be built around the remaining bit of earth, and the increased space made available will be used as the regular stopping place for buses, both east and west bound.

This will be the only stopping place for the buses between Narberth and Haverford Avenues, and Windsor and Essex Avenues. The object of this project, worked out by railroad engineers in conjunction with borough authorities, is to alleviate traffic congestion at the station and at the same time save the tree in the middle of the plot.

Zooming Planes and Marching Youngsters Will Usher in Dual-Township Boy's Week

Final plans for Boy Week, to be held May 3 to 10 inclusive, were approved at a meeting of the Main Line Boy Council in the Ardmore Y. M. C. A., Tuesday evening.

A week of intense activity, starting with a monster parade, is planned. With the addition of the boys from Radnor township it is expected that competition in all events will be greater than ever before.

A new event which has been added to this year's program, and which is attracting a large group of entries, is the Model Aeroplane Contest. Two meets will be staged, one for indoor models, which will be held in the Ardmore Theatre on Saturday, May 10,

Taxi Companies Protest 'Cutthroat' Competition

Protests have arisen from Narberth taxi men against the alleged unfair competition recently provided by Henry Allen, colored, who has been transporting children to and from school at rates under the regular taxi company fares.

The protest is based on the fact that Allen is not licensed to carry the public and that he provides no insurance for the protection of his passengers.

When the matter was brought to the attention of the borough authorities it was felt that it was under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission and not of the local authorities.

Central Alarm System Adopted; All Calls '20'

A new central fire alarm system will be established for Lower Merion and Narberth, it was announced yesterday by township authorities. The system which has received the approval of the Narberth company will do away with the calling of a fire house in case of a fire.

All fire calls will be relayed to a special fire switchboard in the Township Building, Ardmore, and the officer on duty there will call the proper company. The universal fire number for the township and borough will be "20" prefixed by the exchange from which he is calling. A detailed story on the operation of this system will be published in this paper next week.

Pinchot Pays Respects

A flying visit to the Narberth Fire House and borough headquarters was paid by former Governor and present candidate Gifford Pinchot late Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of a trip through this section of the county. It included speeches at Norristown and Pottstown.

American Legion Plans Fete Soon

Gala Evening to Be Held at Merion Tribute House
End of May.

MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

Plans are under way for a gala evening at Merion Tribute House during the latter part of May under the auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, assisted by a Community Committee of men and women which will take care of the practical details of the occasion.

The date has been tentatively set at May 23, 1930, subject to confirmation at the meeting which will be held at the Post headquarters on next Tuesday evening, at which time sub-committees will be organized and definite arrangement made for what, it is said, is going to be a most eventful evening.

The funds derived will be used to liquidate the substantial debt which the Legion is carrying and also, it is said, to possibly provide a nucleus which will permit of a greater degree of service activity than has heretofore been possible.

The expectations are that the program will warrant the co-operation of all members of the community, with cards, music, refreshments, theatricals, the kind of affair which Narberth has lacked in the last few years as a means of promoting a greater degree of neighborhood contact, and an earnest endeavor will be made to draft the aid of all those of special capacities who can lend success to the affair.

At the present time, a call is made for the assistance of those who are skilled in advertising publicity, and men and women who can serve in this respect are invited to be present at the preliminary meeting next Tuesday evening.

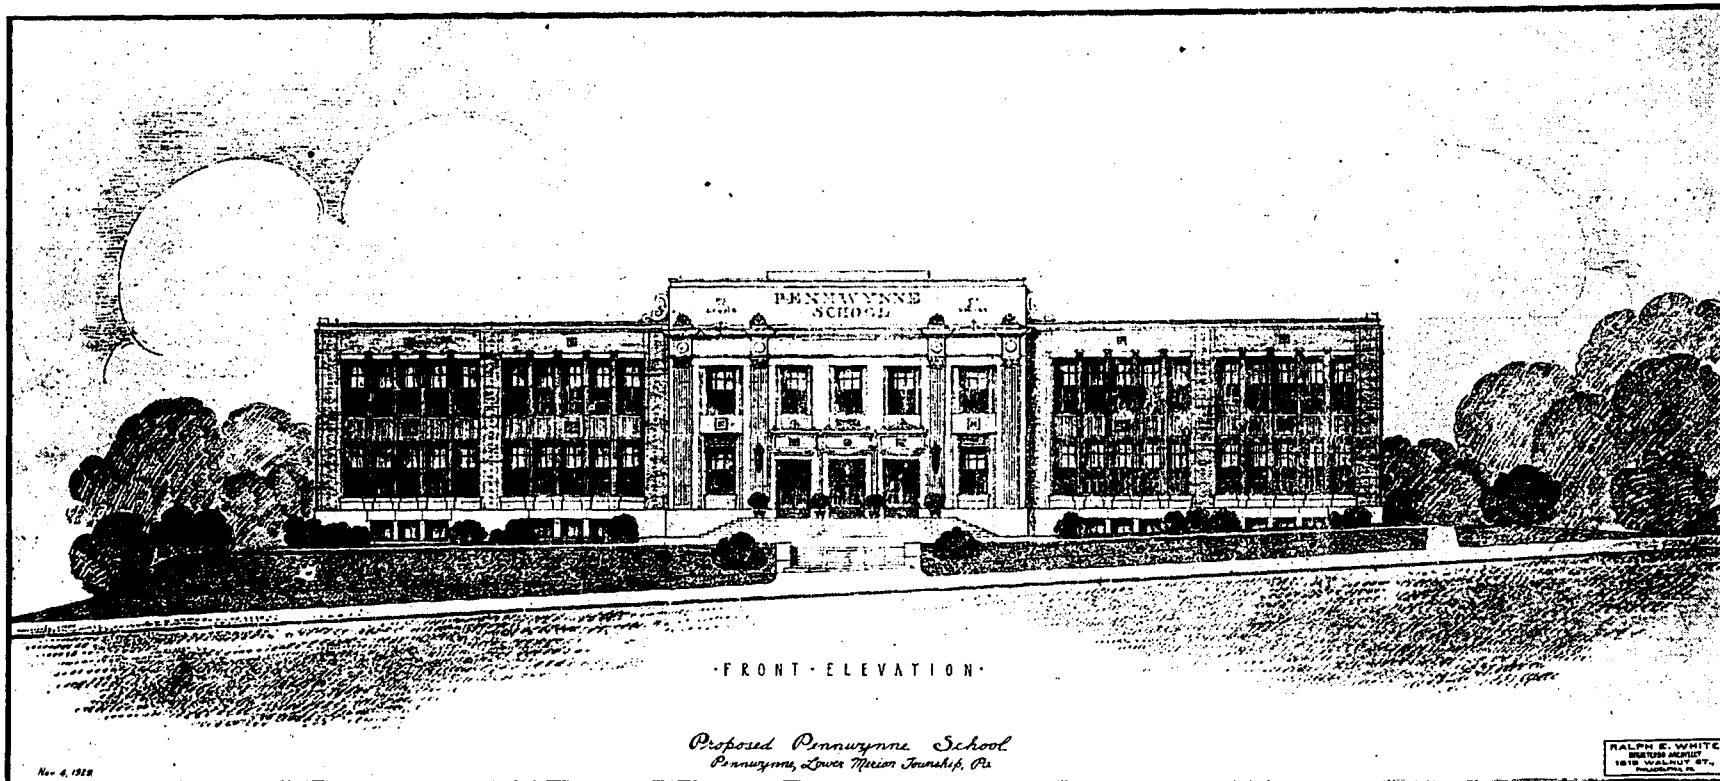

Also those who have facilities for supplying attractive prizes for the card players at particularly low costs are asked to submit their proposals at the same time, as the big evening will be for and by Narberthites and everything pertaining to it should come from the borough people. In due course the tickets will be coming along and public recognition will be accorded of all participation.

And a great deal is going to depend on the ladies, God love them!—(By the Spectator.)

G. O. P. Women to Hear of Political Events

"Current Political Events" will be discussed by Miss Sara M. Soffel, of the State Department of Labor and Industry, in an address before the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women next Thursday, April 24, at 3 P. M., in the Township Building, Ardmore.

As Architect Sees Penn Wynne School

Latest Improvements in New Structure to Serve Community's Educational Needs

The new elementary school to be erected at Haverford Road and Brinton Lane, Penn Wynne, to serve the new communities of Penn Wynne and Overbrook Hills-in-Merion, will be one of the finest in the Township.

It was designed by Ralph E. White, the architect of the Lower Merion High Schools and other elementary schools in the Township. Situated on five acres of high ground, it will have a commanding position and plenty of space for an athletic field.

In general appearance it will be quite similar to the Wynnewood Road School though a trifle larger. Of fire-proof construction throughout, its exterior walls will be of brick with limestone trim.

On the main floor there will be eleven class rooms, an office, teacher's room, girl's locker and toilet, boy's locker and toilet, two large toilet rooms, a wood-working room, paint and glue room, large lumber storage, and storage rooms.

The second floor will contain ten class rooms, large teacher's and projection room, cafeteria and kitchen, teacher's dining room and large storage room. A large janitor's room, storage battery room and boiler room will comprise the basement facilities.

The Bowden Construction Company of Philadelphia is the general contractor for the job. It is expected that work will commence on May 1. The school will have to be finished by July 1, 1931, and will be ready for occupancy in the Fall of 1931. It will cost approximately $400,000. It will be heated by an oil burner and the unit system.

Broadcast From Oberlin

Miss Madeline Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strong, 29 Narberth Park, Narberth, Pa., is one of the musicians who will broadcast from Cleveland, Ohio, Easter evening. She is a member of the Massed Choir of two hundred Oberlin student voices. This choir is composed of the College A Cappella, First Church and Methodist Church Choirs, all students.

The broadcast will be from the studio of WTAM, Cleveland, now one of the most powerful stations in the country. It is to be at 7:30 Easter Sunday evening.

In addition to the choral music there will be instrumental selections by the string choir and solos by members of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music faculty.

Glee Club Entertains

The student body of the Lower Merion Senior High School was entertained by the Boys' Glee Club of Upper Darby High School last Friday morning at the School Assembly. Under the direction of David Haupt, the visiting singers rendered five numbers, all of which were enjoyed by the student body. Mr. Haupt sang four numbers also, and after the assembly period the visitors were introduced to the various departments of the school.

Wants Entries Early

A request that all boys planning to take part in the Boy Week parade May 3 communicate with him promptly was made this week by Walter B. Richards, Bala-Cynwyd, who is chairman of the committee in charge of parade arrangements.

Father Haney Is Made Bala Rector

ASSISTANT TEN YEARS

Announcement was made last week of the appointment of the Rev. Thomas J. Haney as rector of St. Matthias Church, Bala-Cynwyd, by Dennis J. Cardinal Dougherty, who returned recently to his home on City Line, Merion, recently after a world tour.

Father Haney has been acting rector at St. Matthias since the death this past winter of the Rev. Luke McCabe, who had been rector for eleven years. The new rector was assistant at St. Matthias for over ten years; June 16 will mark the completion of his eleventh year in the parish.

Father Haney studied at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary and served at the churches of St. Agatha, St. Vincent de Paul in Minersville and St. Francis de Sales before he was called to Bala, June 16, 1919. He also for a time labored in Magyar and Slav missions in Philadelphia. The twenty-fifth anniversary of his priesthood was celebrated with special jubilee services here last May.

"Chic" Sale coming in new musical comedy; Hedgerow to observe seventh anniversary; "The Rivals."

Charles "Chic" Sale, author of "The Specialist," the homely little volume that sold over a million copies, comes to the Shubert Theatre tomorrow night (April 19), as the star of the Messrs. Shubert's new and highly amusing comedy, "So This Is Paris."

In his new show "Chic" Sale plays one character all through the play and in creating this role he adds a new type and characterization to his extensive gallery of famous portraits of rural America. This time "Chic" Sale is a modest and simple living garage owner of a small Oklahoma town, who suddenly becomes immensely rich through the discovery of oil on his property, and later is induced to take his family to Paris in a manner befitting an oil king in search of Old World culture. Complications run rampant through the story and "Chic" Sale ever is engaged in untangling the romances and difficulties his grandchildren become involved in, and the whole work provides this master delineator of small-town types with material for being funnier than he has ever been in his long and illustrious career.

Supporting "Chic" Sale is a large cast of musical comedy favorites, headed by Lillian Taiz, Jack Goode, Stella Mayhew and Nat C. Haines, while the management boasts of one of the smartest and prettiest aggregations of girls of any musical comedy this year.

The Hedgerow Theatre of Rose Valley will observe its seventh anniversary on Monday night, April 21, by making its sixty-sixth production, "Othello," by William Shakespeare. Wayland Rudd, whose "Emperor Jones" and "Abe" in "In Abraham's Bosom" were added to the repertory last season, will be seen as "The Moor of Venice."

Isobel Murdoch, leading woman of "The Devil's Disciple" and "Mirage," appears opposite Rudd as "Desdemona." Dudley Vaughan will be seen as "Emilia," a role which has been restored to its full length in this production, and Miriam Phillips will play "Bianca."

Ferd Nofer will play "Iago"; William Price, "Cassio"; Alfred Rowe, "Lodovico" and Walter Hart, "Roderigo."

The latest announcement from the Broad Street Theatre is that George C. Tyler will present an all-star cast in "The Rivals," for one week beginning Monday, May 5.

Mrs. Fiske will again head the list of players, portraying the role of Mrs. Malaprop, and James T. Powers will be seen in the part of Bob Acres. Andrew Mack is the Sir Lucius O'Trigger. The love interest will be upheld by Margery Maude, as Lydia Languish, and Rollo Peters as Captain Jack, while Pedro de Cordoba is the John Faulkland and Betty Linley, Julia; John Craig plays Sir Anthony and Georgette Cohan, Lucy.

Main Liners who are the fortunate possessors of season tickets at the Philadelphia Orchestra were surprised last week at a remarkable piece of enterprise on the part of Leopold Stokowski and the Victor Phonograph Co. Two weeks before the epochal performance of Strawinski's "Sacre de Printemps," a recording was made of the work, rushed through the production department and made available to Philadelphia music lovers two days before the orchestra concert.

As a result Barclay H. Azpell, Ardmore Victor dealer, spent a busy hour on the phone telling some of his customers about it, and fifteen of the albums were in Main Line homes before the owners went to the performance. The album is a remarkable piece of recording, presenting a concert piece unexcelled in the brilliance of its orchestration and rhythms, yet so modern that it is harsh to the ear until it has been heard several times.

Jobs Still Needed

We take this opportunity to thank the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce for its letter, published elsewhere in this issue, offering co-operation to this paper and the other two news-magazines serving this suburban area in their effort to relieve the unemployment situation locally. We also wish to express our appreciation of the continued work of the Main Line Federation of Churches in this connection. The Federation is at all times active in behalf of the unemployed and it is pleasing to give this splendid organization our full co-operation.

Meanwhile the supply of workers continues to exceed the demand. One resident, called by this office, reported that more than a score of girls and women applied to her for a situation as mother's helper, several of them offering to work for room and board. A contractor told us that approximately fifty painters applied to him for five jobs.

Work in the industries and on the estates, gardens and highways is more plentiful, however, and less distress is apparent than during the last few weeks. But if you can provide a job, provide it now. It's needed.

Writing One's Own Ticket

Foreword: This editorial is not an endorsement of any candidate but is rather a discussion of prevailing sentiment locally on the political aspect.

With the primaries only a month away, the impression increases rather than diminishes that Pennsylvania is witnessing a contest of personalities rather than issues. There are differences, of course, and they widen on a graph beginning at the top with the U. S. Senatorial aspirants. Senator Grundy and Secretary of Labor Davis are such excellent senatorial material that it seems a shame that two of them cannot be elected to the office. Both are safe, sane and sound. Not everyone will agree that the same adjectives can be applied to Messrs. Brown and Pinchot with any degree of equality, but partisans of each are numerous and vehement. (For some reason no one seems to be excited about the Independent Wet Ticket.)

Locally there is also likely to be much splitting of votes, although here the issue is clearly drawn; organization and anti-organization.

The attitude of one voter who recently discussed the situation with the writer is interesting. He said he would vote: For Grundy because he is the best equipped man to represent Pennsylvania's interests in the U. S. Senate; for Pinchot because he is a naturalist, conservationist and economist; for Ludlow for the State Senate because he is a neighbor and an esteemed Main Line citizen; for Assemblyman Fred C. Peters because he is a neighbor, highly respected citizen of the community, is doing a good job and should be permitted to continue it.

That is just one opinion of an ultra-Independent Republican. There will be quite a few of his class, however, at the coming polls.

At the other extreme is the dyed-in-the-wool, rock-ribbed, regular Republican. How can he vote except for Grundy, Brown, Boyd and Peters? Secretary Davis' friends will say that is not a fair question and we'll admit a slight local viewpoint on Joseph R.

Many folks will be writing their own tickets May 20.

The Testimonial Banquet

Next Thursday evening a banquet in honor of the Eastern Regional basketball champions of Pennsylvania will be tendered at the Wynnewood Road School in Ardmore. For the one or two readers who may not know who the Eastern Regional Champs are, let it be written that Lower Merion High School's floor quintet holds that title. Let it also be written that no other organization in these parts is more entitled to a testimonial banquet.

Boys, girls, men and women are invited to this dinner in honor of Lockwood, Mandes, Bonniwell, Turner, Pennypacker, D'Amora, Gane, Wynn and the other boys who helped Coach Anderson spread the fame of Lower Merion far afield. Many of them are expected to accept for it is understood that several leading citizens, both in school and outside of educational connections, are back of the idea.

It will be a well-deserved tribute to the boys who played their heads off for the glory of their school.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Referendum

My less distinguished contemporary, Jay House, says that the trouble with prohibition is that you can't get anyone to talk about it. It seems to me that prohibition might be a very terrible thing if it were ever enforced. Now it is possible that there are many people who want it enforced; at the same time it is possible that there is a vociferous minority which does not. Therefore, instead of taking straw votes and Literary Digest polls, wouldn't it be rather sporting to put it fairly to an individual vote and see just who wants what in this great democratic experiment of ours?

I, for one, do not want to see the return of all the corner saloons; there are enough of them doing business now, but I also do not want to be a felon if I have a glass of wine at dinner nor do I want to associate with crooks in order to have it, nor do I want to send my money for such pleasure into the pockets of gunmen, thugs and criminals.

Spring

At about this time of year we realize why we are so glad to live on our Main Line instead of some other suburbs. If all the pain and thought and industry and money that has gone to make our surrounding properties beautiful had been expended on some purely utilitarian effort it could never have brought forth anything that would have been finer for the human race than the glorious show of living things that quietly unfolds before us now. (Come on, Jess, and tell us how worthless such things are.)

Vandals

With the advent of spring comes the advent of vandals and trespassers. Just where they come from I can't tell. If I could I'd buy formaldehyd candles and smoke them out. They motor into the country on Sundays, picnic in our fields, litter our grounds, strip our shrubs and bushes, pick our wildflowers and retreat as silently as they have arrived. In the spring you will see their cars filled with branches of forsythia stolen from someone who has raised it with patience and expense. In the fall you'll find their tonneaux filled with autumn leaves and other plants. In June they will tear apart our rosebushes wherever they are near roads. Only public education can correct their lustful wastage.

Holy Week

Church celebrations are becoming more and more perfunctory. How many of you have pondered on the spiritual significance of Holy Week, and to how many others does it simply mean a trip to the shore or a wardrobe replenished with Easter clothes?

Response

No one of all my thousands of readers could find any use for the five million dollars I offered two weeks ago. It is pleasant although so disappointing to find that I am writing purely and solely for the delectation of millionaires. I had hoped that some poor soul would have a pleasant reverie and transport us from the monotony of daily life along this line.

Summer is coming along and that is when my mind is taxed the hardest to find something for you each week, so make it easy for me now. This column is yours. You may discuss anything from pedagogy to birth control providing you do not engage in personalities nor ask me to print anything that might land the publisher in jail.

Tonight I heard an interesting yarn from a former country editor. He was out in his plant when a stranger entered the office with a baseball bat, "Where is the editor's desk?" he inquired. Upon being told he walked over and fractured the skull of an insurance salesman waiting to see the editor.

Expect Electric Trains By August

B.-C. Club Hears Old Lancaster
Road Will Be Repaved Soon.

SEEK SHADE TREE BODY

Bala-Cynwyd's Neighborhood Club, at its March meeting held Tuesday the twenty-fifth in the Cynwyd Fire Hall, heard:

1. The Pennsylvania Railroad has abandoned its idea, proposed last summer, of a bus line from City Hall to Bala-Cynwyd and other Main Line points.

2. Instead, improved train service is expected for Bala-Cynwyd, and other stations on the Schuylkill Division by the end of July, when it is expected electrification will be completed as far west as Franklin avenue, Norristown. Lloyd A. Unger, chairman of the club's Public Service Committee, reported that at a conference with railroad officials last Friday, he had made a plea for more trains to and from Philadelphia, and that the prospects of increased and improved service on the new electric line are bright.

3. Appointment of a Shade Tree Commission for Lower Merion is to be asked the township commissioners by a new Neighborhood Club committee consisting of L. Bert Eyster, H. Gleason Mattoon and Carl Peter Birkinbine. It was pointed out that many other communities have such commissions, that Pennsylvania law permits their appointment, and that Lower Merion's commissioners have the necessary authority.

4. Township Treasurer Peter C. Hess announced that the County Commissioners have decided to improve Old Lancaster Road (a county highway) all its length from the corner of Montgomery Pike and Levering Mill Road, to the corner of City Line and Fifty-fourth Street. The work of resurfacing the road is expected to be done this summer, at a cost of nearly $50,000.

5. Joseph L. Bowles, executive secretary of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, declared that Main Line communities have the greatest earning and buying power of any in the Philadelphia metropolitan area; that the average income of the heads of families between Overbrook and Wayne has been computed at $6890 a year; that indications point to more first-class stores following Strawbridge and Clothier's example, with a tendency to making the Main Line "another Fifth Avenue."

Announcement was made by President James E. Hammer that Chairman H. Gleason Mattoon, of the club's Public Improvement Committee, will ask co-operation of other organizations along the Main Line in combating Japanese beetles this spring.

It was announced that a new committee to revise the club's By-Laws has been appointed, consisting of George W. Selby, Charles S. Shinn and David G. Wilson.

William S. Jackson, chairman of the Membership Committee, reported that a membership campaign is under way, and urged club members to aid. Speaking of non-members, he said, "We need them and we think they need us. If club members will attend meetings more regularly and show greater attention to the club, the interest of their neighbors will be stimulated, and it will be better for us all."

New members admitted included Joseph Irvin, 212 Bala Avenue; William H. Walter, 611 Yale road; Justin

E. Marsden, 112 Overhill Road; William S. Davis, Princeton and Overhill Roads; J. Kryder, 25 Cornell Road; and J. P. Lynch, 29 Cornell Road.

To Present Candidates at League Luncheon

Women Voters Sponsor of Affair at Bellevue on April 25.

MANY HAVE ACCEPTED

The candidates' luncheon, sponsored by the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, to be held on Friday, April 25, in the Ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, promises to be one of the outstanding events in the coming political campaign, both to the candidates running for office and for their listeners. For the latter it affords the unusual opportunity of seeing and hearing in one afternoon on the same platform men representing many groups with divergent points of view.

"During one of the political campaigns in the past, at a luncheon held by the League of Women Voters, the applause from the women present that greeted one plank in the platform of a candidate became for him the determining factor in his successful campaign," according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, of Haverford, Chairman of Finance of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters.

The response by the candidates has been prompt and enthusiastic. The following candidates have accepted the invitation to speak at the candidates' luncheon.

For United States Senator: Joseph R. Grundy, Republican; Secretary James J. Davis, Republican; and Sedgwick Kistler, Democrat.

For Governor: Francis Shunk Brown, Republican; Gifford Pinchot, Republican, and John M. Hemphill, Democrat.

Mr. Lewis had accepted before he withdrew as a candidate for Governor. On the Anti-Prohibition ticket—Francis Bohlen has accepted.

All Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Prohibition and Anti-Prohibition candidates for Governor and for United States Senator have been invited to present their platforms at this meeting.

Merger Saves Gas Consumers $1,913,000

Economies Effected by Philadelphia Electric During 1929.

A generally satisfactory year is reflected in the first annual report of Philadelphia Electric Company for the year 1929 made public by William H. Taylor, president.

The present Philadelphia Electric Company was incorporated October 31, 1929, as the result of a merger and consolidation of the Philadelphia Electric Company, the Philadelphia Suburban-Counties Gas and Electric Company and three small gas companies. The financial statements given in the report are for the present system and include all of the companies now comprising the system.

Increase in quantity sales of electricity and gas, evidencing an increased individual use of the company's service, as well as increases in the operating revenue with a reduction in the operating ratio, and rate revisions showing a total estimated annual saving to customers of $1,913,000 are some of the high lights of the report. Mr. Taylor's report in part follows:

"At the end of 1929, electric, gas and steam heat customer, as represented by the number of active meters connected to the lines, totaled 45,185; 39.02 or 5.5 per cent. more than the number connected at December 31, 1928. During the year electric meters increased to 623,371 with a gain of 31,619 or 5.3 per cent.; gas meters showed an increase of 7,404 or 6.5 per cent., making the end-of-the-year total 120,984, and steam heat meters, numbering 830 at the end of the year, gained 39 or 4.9 per cent.

"Electric sales for the year amounted to 2,650,234,581 kilowatt-hours, being 504,897,101 kilowatt-hours or 23.5 per cent. more than for 1928; gas sales of 5,437,279,253 cubic feet increased 761,894,553 cubic feet or 16.3 per cent. Steam heat sales of 578,359,436 pounds were 46,711,766 pounds or 7.5 per cent. under those of the preceding year.

"Rate revisions effecting substantial reductions in charges to the company's customers—the total estimated annual savings were $1,913,000—were made during the year.

"The balance of income available for dividends on preferred and common stocks and other cororated purposes amounted to $19,054,150 as compared with $15,508,138 for the year 1928.

"Continuing the policy indicated in June, 1928, by combining and co-ordinating the operations of predecessor companies, The Philadelphia Electric Company, Delaware County Electric Co., and Philadelphia Suburban-Counties Gas and Electric Company, it has been the endeavor of the management during the past year to consolidate the positions of the company in its territory, both with respect to plant and operations."

Wins Coast Trip

J. R. Aiken, of 110 Iona Avenue, Narberth, won a free twenty-five day trip to California the latter part of August at a banquet given at the Elks Hall, Philadelphia, during the Flower Show, by the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. Mr. Aiken will go on a special train as the guest of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery, and will attend the Florist Convention at the coast.

Give Fine Program at Community Service

Presentation of 'The Terrible Meek' Outstanding Feature

MUSICAL PROGRAM GOOD

Another notable community gathering, fifth in the series of the season now closing, assembled in the Narberth Theatre last Sunday evening to attend the Palm Sunday Community Service which was conducted under the auspices of the Protestant churches of the Borough, the Friends' Meeting of Merion, the American Legion and the Women's Club. Again all those who attended were rewarded by a program which indicated careful preparation and planning. No offering was taken during the service, but contributions were received in boxes at the rear of the theatre. Judging by appearances only, the congestion about the boxes as people paused on the way out to put in money, the proceeds must have been sufficient to yield a liberal net for contribution to the Devon disaster sufferers.

After the organ prelude, Rev. Samuel MacAdams of the Methodist Church read a scripture lesson and offered prayer. Then followed a musical program by the Lyric Trio, Florence Haenle, violinist; Dorothy Power, harpist, and Ernestine Bacon, soprano. The character, diversity and beauty of this program were much enjoyed. In fact, the absence of applause seemed almost ungracious.

The second part of the program was the presentation of "The Terrible Meek" by Charles Rann Kennedy, a drama of the Passion. The locale of the action is termed "a wind-swept hill" and the time is called "a time of darkness." The characters are a peasant woman, actually Mary, the mother of Jesus, which was played by Kathleen McConnell; a soldier, played by Frank Follmer, and an army captain, played by Robert E. Keighton. The stage is dimly lighted throughout and the characters can be scarcely seen. The lines are full of emotion, pathos, tragedy and finally of exaltation. All of the parts were skillfully portrayed, far above the old style Sunday-school type of sacred dramas. If one should be selected for especial praise, that distinction should go to Mrs. McConnell for her sustained skill in a long and difficult role.

Again it is not only necessary but courteous to record the debt which the community owes to the proprietors of the theatre, Messrs. Salasin and Freed, for their generosity in contributing the theatre, the lighting and organ for this community service. Their theatre makes possible a dignified, convenient and appropriate place for such community gatherings. Without it, these community services would not have reached the high state which has been developed this season. The theatre, in its normal activities, deserves well of the people of Narberth not only because of the generosity of the proprietors but because its facilities, including the recently installed "talkie" equipment, are said by those who know to be the best on the Main Line.

Library Story Hour Has Proved Great Success

On April 12, 1929, Miss Church held the first story hour for the children at the Narberth Community Library. During the year since that time she, with the assistance of Miss Follette, has told stories every Tuesday to varying groups whose numbers total 1281 for the year. That is a very good record, when one considers the interference of stormy weather, measles, and, in summer, the rival attractions of the playground.

This period, while planned for the children, is not closed to their elders, twenty-five of whom have listened in during the year. Nor do the official story tellers take all the time of the hour. The children are encouraged to come forward with any tale or verse they have to offer. Not the least appealing was the little lad who recently recited the books of the Bible, with great pride and complete accuracy.

The library wishes to acknowledge the assistance of Mrs. Thaddeus L. Bolton during the story hours and to thank the Girl Scouts for the use of their room.

National Child Health Day to Be Celebrated May 1

National Child Health Day will be observed on May 1, 1930. The purpose of the annual May Day celebration is to fulfill in our American communities the ideal set forth in the Child's Bill of Rights, formulated by President Hoover, which reads as follows:

The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America:

That has not been born under proper conditions.

That does not live in hygienic surroundings.

That ever suffers from under-nourishment.

That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection.

That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health.

That has not the complete birth-right of a sound mind in a sound body.

That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit

The slogan this year is "Every Parent and Every Community United for Health for Every Child."

Miss Rose Ehrenfeld, chairman of the local committee on Child Health Day, states that the nursing staff of the Community Health and Civic Association are anxious to put within the reach of the public every available resource for attaining this goal. The services of the nurses have already been offered the township's Boards of Education in an attempt to secure 100% preparedness for school entrance. The nurses plan to make a personal contact, through a home visit, in the interest of each child scheduled for entrance into school this fall. They will urge a complete medical examination by the family physician, protection against small-pox through vaccination and protection from diphtheria through toxin-antitoxin.

Banquet to Honor Eastern Champions

Community Event to Be Held at Wynnewood Road School April 24.

EVERYONE IS INVITED

A group of interested citizens have arranged to give a monster banquet to Lower Merion High School's victorious basketball team at the Wynnewood Road School Thursday evening, April 24, to which everyone is invited, young and old.

The committee wants to make this banquet a true community affair, because of the fact that Lower Merion represented the entire Eastern district of Pennsylvania, and succeeded in defeating all State contenders until the last game.

These boys who represented this district in such a sportsmanlike and gentlemanly fashion have done much for the cause of clean athletics in our schools, and by their fine spirit and conduct have brought great credit to the schools of the entire Philadelphia suburban area, and especially to the Main Line and its environs.

A fine program is being arranged. Two speakers of prominence have been obtained and will also have short speeches from the players and others.

Vaudeville by stars who are appearing at the Philadelphia theatres on the above date will be presented.

Tickets may be purchased at the high school office, and at the usual places in Cynwyd, Narberth, Ardmore and Bryn Mawr.

Early reservations are requested as the sale of tickets will close Wednesday evening, April 23. The banquet will be served at 7:30 sharp.

Off to a Good Start

Samuel B. Gilpin, of Merion, opened his 1930 tennis campaign by capturing the Middle States indoor tennis championship at the expense of Joseph Olhausen, former Penn A. C. captain, on the Pennac court last Thursday night, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

Three Main Line Men to Have Prominent Part in Program.

NORRISTOWN, APRIL 24

The Montgomery County Bankers' Association will hold its annual banquet in the Valley Forge Hotel at Norristown at 6:30 P. M. Thursday, April 24. Richard J. Hamilton, president of the Merion Title and Trust Company, is president of the county organization and will preside.

The speakers will include Harry J. Haas, who is vice president of the First National Bank of Philadelphia and also vice president of the American Bankers' Association. Mr. Haas, a resident of Ardmore, will address the members on "Banking Associations." O. Howard Wolf, of Radnor, cashier of the Philadelphia National Bank, will address the banquet on the subject, "Service Charge." Mr. Wolf might be said to be the foremost authority on this subject in the country today as he instituted this practice in the American Bankers' Association and has addressed bankers the country over on the subject.

Stop Sign Violators Now Getting Summonses

Beginning Wednesday of this week, summonses were given by the borough police officers for violations of "Through-traffic Stop" signs recently erected at intersections of all through streets. Previously to this date warning tags were dispensed to offenders.

Many inquiries have been made as to just where a driver should stop to comply with the law. In response to these queries, Burgess Henry A. Frye said "the interpretation of the State law is that a motor vehicle should be stopped just before entering the intersection, that is, just before reaching the curb line."

Historic Church Will Reopen Easter Sunday

One of the beauty spots of the Main Line is the Lower Merion Baptist Church and cemetery, Gulph and Roberts Roads, Bryn Mawr, across from Bryn Mawr College. For many years the church has only been used for a few weeks in the summer, and the chapel on the Lincoln Highway the main centre of activities; but the automobile, good roads and increase of population has encouraged the church to improve the property at considerable expense, in line with its historic character, so that it is now more beautiful than ever, and will be reopened on Easter Sunday, at eleven, with service again at 8 P. M. The ground for the church was given by Hon. Charles Thomson, secretary to the Continental Congress. President Woodrow Wilson and family at one time occupied the old parsonage. George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, donated the fine window in memory of Charles Thomson. Quite a number of the descendants of William Penn, some fifty soldiers in the various American wars and many others are buried in this God's acre. Bob Burdette, soldier, author, humorist and preacher, was started on his ministerial career in this church. Many will be glad to rejoice with the church Sunday on its reopening.

Easter

Easter time has come again,
And we celebrate the day
Since the stone that Easter morn
From the tomb was rolled away.

For the grave could not retain him,
He the Lord of Heaven and Earth,
And a miracle had freed him
Great as was His wondrous birth.

To our all victorious Saviour
Who has conquered o'er the grave,
And from death its sting has taken,
And we will sing our songs of praise.
—Margaret L. Griffith.

New Main Line Store Nearing Completion

*The Strawbridge & Clothier
Main Line Store
on Montgomery Avenue near Ardmore Station*

OPENS IN A FEW WEEKS

The new Main Line Store will be a city store in every essential—completeness, attractiveness, comfort, convenience and service. Its patrons will enjoy every advantage of Strawbridge & Clothier Service.

OUR CITY STORE has been a landmark of Philadelphia's shopping centre for more than sixty years, and the erection of the great New Store at Market, Eighth and Filbert Streets proves our faith in the continuance of that famous corner as the retail centre of Metropolitan Philadelphia for generations to come.

But our plans for the new era of expansion go still further. The Main Line Store at Ardmore will bring Strawbridge & Clothier service nearer to many thousands of homes on this vast Western Front of Philadelphia. It will save time for our customers in Montgomery, Delaware and Chester Counties and beyond, and in the western section of Philadelphia County. It will mean fewer shopping trips to the heart of the city.

It will give our Main Line customers complete assortments in a wide range of merchandise—with every advantage in selection, fashion and price which a great metropolitan store's volume and buying facilities insure.

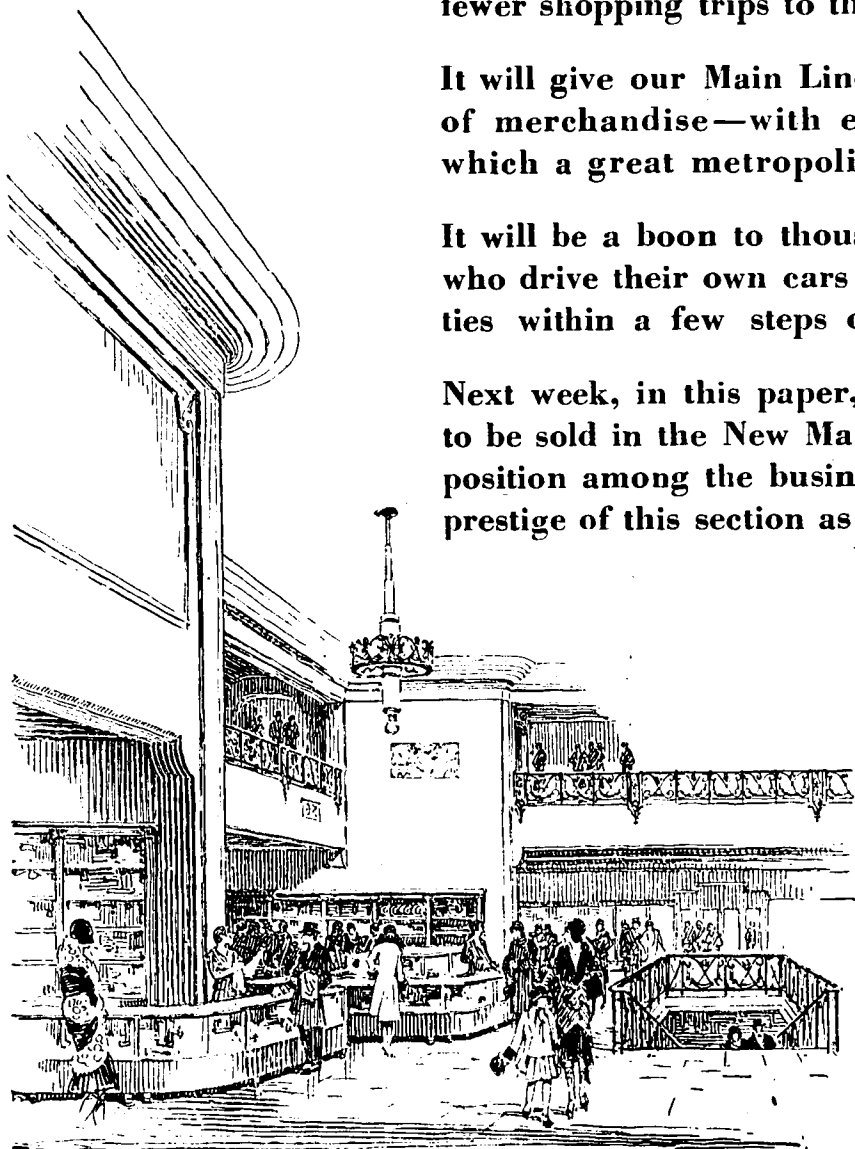

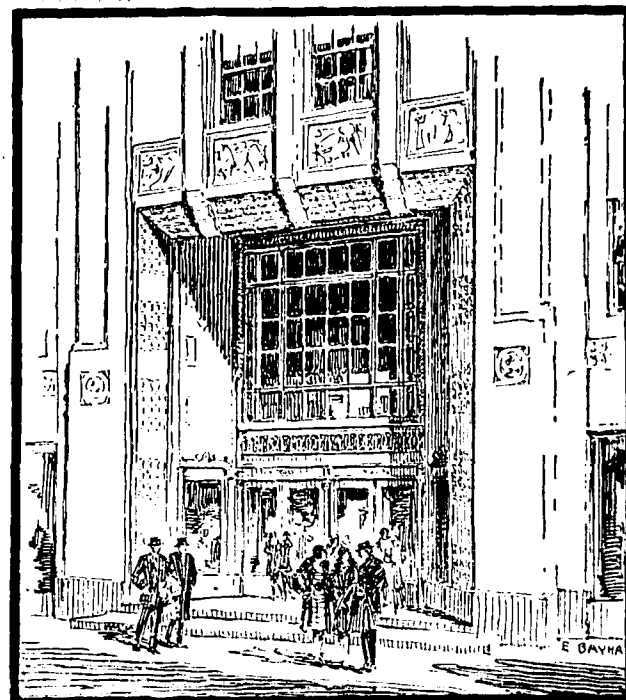

It will be a boon to thousands of motorists—especially to the many women who drive their own cars but who do not enjoy city driving. Parking facilities within a few steps of the Store entrances are practically unlimited.

Next week, in this paper, we shall give details of the lines of merchandise to be sold in the New Main Line Store—which, we hope, may win a worthy position among the business houses of this great community and add to the prestige of this section as a convenient local shopping centre.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

All charge accounts will be good at both stores, and if you do not have an account with us we invite you to make application at once. Such application should be directed to the Credit Manager of Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia.

Eagle Patrol Enjoys Trip to Washington; Sees Memorials and Meets Secretaries Mellon and Davis

(By W. A. Macan)

A group of early risers, the Eagle Patrol of Bala-Cynwyd, Troop No. 2, set out for Washington at 7 A. M. Friday, March 4. The patrol, consisting of Herbert Harkins, John Tipton, Cason Rucker, Charles Lueders, Jack Condon, Richard Beck, Clarke Morian and William Macan, was in charge of Assistant Scoutmaster Frank H. Seely, Jr., and was accompanied by Harry Shimwell, of Brookline, who acted as official photographer.

After a six-hour drive in automobiles, the group arrived in Washington and drove directly to the Hotel Raleigh, where rooms had been reserved. From here the boys, after seeing President Hoover as he started for a week-end fishing trip, went to the Labor Building, where they met Secretary Davis, Pennsylvania candidate for Senator.

The next event was the meeting of Secretary Mellon at the Treasury Building. He shook hands with the boys and told them that he had seen only a small part of Washington, so occupied had he been with his work.

The boys were fortunate in the fact that the cherry blossoms in Potomac Park were in bloom, and they enjoyed very much the sight of these blossoms.

About 5 P. M. the Lincoln Memorial was visited, and the setting sun shining on this marble building was indeed a beautiful spectacle. It was learned that the magnificent statue of Lincoln in this famous memorial is thirty feet tall and is in nineteen sections, weighing a total of 150 tons.

The boys were free during the evening and some went to a show while others saw the Congressional Library and the originals of the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence reposing under a special yellow glass, and presumably happy in their permanent marble resting place.

Saturday morning was spent in seeing the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. Through the courtesy of Secretary Mellon, a special trip was arranged through this building. After meeting Director Alvin W. Hall, the boys were accompanied by the Captain of the Guard on an extensive tour of this vast money-making plant. To see the packets of $20,000 was quite impressive, but none could be obtained to fill empty pockets.

From this bureau the boys crossed into Virginia where they visited Mt. Vernon. Here they found excellent scenery and George Washington's house, which had been kept in such good condition that it seemed modern, especially with moving picture cameras grinding away from the outside. A drive down Ambassador Row in Washington finished the day, and again the boys went their own ways.

On Sunday morning a heavy rain began to fall, but this did not keep the Scouts from going to Arlington Cemetery, where they paid their respects at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, to those who fell in the World War. From there they drove to the Washington Monument, where, when the gates were finally opened at 12:30, several Scouts walked to the top, and viewed the Capital from another angle.

Finally, at 1 P. M., after a last look at Washington, the Eagle Patrol was once more homeward bound. After a long and tedious trip on wet, slippery roads, the boys arrived at the home of Troop Committeeman Clarke H. Morian, Merion, where they had dinner and related the interesting events of their trip.

The Eagle Patrol wishes publicly to express its appreciation to Mr. Seely for the fine trip made under his supervision and to the men of the community who made it possible.

Historic Old Papers Discovered by Cynwyd Man Tell of Civil War and Lincoln's Assassination

Stowed away in an old family chest where they have been carefully preserved for more than half a century, a collection of one hundred and fifty-two newspapers published before, during and after the Civil War period, "covering" outstanding events of the time, such as the inauguration, assassination and funeral of Abraham Lincoln, trial of the assassin and conspirators, progress of all the important battles, and the death of General Lafayette, was discovered recently by J. Ogden Cuthbert, 4th, 130 Edgehill Road, Cynwyd.

One hundred and twenty-one papers in the collection are issues of The Philadelphia Inquirer; two were published by The Inquirer and Daily Courier; one is an issue of the Philadelphia Independent Gazetteer, or the Chronicle of Freedom; still another is an issue of the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, and the remaining publications are issues of Philadelphia, New York and Chicago newspapers.

The two oldest publications in the collection are the Philadelphia Independent Gazetteer and the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, published on March 22, 1783, and April 30, 1789, respectively, the former therefore being nearly one hundred and fifty years old.

The collection of old newspapers was found by Mr. Cuthbert one rainy day when he was browsing around in his cellar. His roving eye fell on the old family chest and his curiosity was aroused. He often wondered what was in the chest, although he knew there was nothing of particular commercial value, and he therefore determined to investigate and see. When he opened the chest and found the newspapers he was amazed not only because of their historical interest, but because of their fine state of preservation.

Mr. Cuthbert explained that the chest had been handed down from one generation of his family to the next, and that it originally belonged to J. Ogden Cuthbert, 1st, so that he believes it must have been the original J. Ogden Cuthbert who started the collection. He was a prominent Philadelphian in his day.

Many of the newspapers are illustrated with pictures reproduced from drawings, and quaint advertisements fill the back pages.

An admirable description of the funeral of President Lincoln is given in the issue of The Philadelphia Inquirer, April 20, 1865, under the heading "The Nation Mourns Its Loss." A picture of the funeral car of the martyr President appears on the upper portion of the front page, while below is a reproduction of the coffin, reported at the time as "probably the handsomest ever constructed in this country."

On an inside page is an advertisement of the preamble and resolutions drawn up by the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, in which that body went on record as grieving greatly the loss of the President and pledging to uphold the Government in the crisis.

"Resolved," reads a portion of the document, "That in the death of Abraham Lincoln the country has lost a man who has stood second to none, Washington being her saviour and Lincoln her redeemer."

The death of Lafayette was reported in The Inquirer and Daily Courier on Friday, June 20, 1834. A special postscript in the upper left-hand corner reads: "From the New York Courier and Enquirer, Extra. The ship, Silas Richards, Captain Burslev, has just arrived at this port from Liverpool, from whence she sailed on the 26th day of May. The most important intelligence received by the arrival is the death of General Lafavatte. This afflicting event occurred on the 20th day of May."

for Economical Transportation

it's wise to choose a SIX!

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no rumble or drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting, longer-satisfying automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No other automobile consumes less gasoline and oil. No other shows a lower expense for tires. And no other car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high resale value.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes; a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear; four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a heavy, rigidly-braced channel-steel frame. And it gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance . . . and for economical transportation!

Elected Ardmore Rotary President

Ralph Davenport, principal of the Ardmore Avenue and Wynnewood Road schools, who was elected president of the Ardmore Rotary Club at its election last week.

Figures of Earnings—Higher on Main Line Than Elsewhere Nearby—Given Bala-Cynwyd Men's Club

Not only is Lower Merion the richest township in the United States, but the entire Main Line, from Overbrook to Wayne, has the greatest per capita earning and buying power of any section of the Philadelphia metropolitan area.—That was the statement made by Joseph L. Bowles, executive secretary of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, to the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club at its meeting March 25.

The Cawl survey statistics compiled by the Philadelphia Public Ledger at a cost of $100,000 in an 18-month survey completed last year, were quoted by Mr. Bowles to substantiate his claims. "The average annual income of the head of each of Philadelphia's 469,860 families was found to be $2,580.67; in suburbs such as Chestnut Hill the average was considerably greater; but the highest average is on the Main Line, from Overbrook to Wayne—of $6890 per year for the heads of families, not including other members of the families."

Mr. Bowles prefaced statistics of various communities along the Line by pointing out that the percentage of telephones in use is the most accurate yardstick of the incomes of householders. The percentage of high school and college graduates in each community, he called its "cultural background." In computing population he gave an estimate of four and one half persons in each average family.

Bala-Cynwyd, 1889 families (778 in Bala, 1111 in Cynwyd) with an average income of $7,896; 71 per cent. with telephones listed in the Cynwyd exchange (many listed in Philadelphia); 55 per cent. high school graduates, and 45 per cent. normal school or college graduates.

Merion, 666 families, with the same cultural background and estimated average income as Bala-Cynwyd.

Narberth, 1555 families, with an average income of $5,261; 73 per cent. high school graduates, 34 per cent. college graduates; and 96.5 per cent. with telephones—the highest percentage in the United States.

Wynnewood, 444 families; average income 12,890; 88 per cent. high school, 49 per cent. college graduates—the highest average cultural background on the Main Line, and perhaps in the United States.

Ardmore, 4380 families; average income $4633.19; 47 per cent. high school graduates, 20 per cent. college graduates; and 81.8 per cent. with telephones.

Bryn Mawr, 1822 families; average income $4258; 40 per cent. high school and 14 per cent. college graduates; and 66.7 per cent. with telephones.

Villanova, 555 families, average income $5453.

St. Davids, 178 families, average income $5278.

Wayne, 1866 families, average income $5278.

Concerning fears of Main Line business folk that the coming of new stores to this section may harm their business, Mr. Bowles declared "shopkeepers have everything to fear—but intelligent merchants have everything to gain. You cannot stop progress. Incompetence, not competition, is what cuts profits. The coming of new and better stores to Ardmore will help the entire Main Line, by making residents everywhere realize they can satisfy all their needs conveniently near their homes.

To Enlarge Area of Penn Valley Section

To Include Land Between State Road and Schuylkill River

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Penn Valley Association on April 9, at the Montgomery School in Penn Valley, the suggestion of Percival Roberts that the Penn Valley district be enlarged to include the section between State Road and the Schuylkill River was acted upon favorably. This section at the present time contains comparatively few residents, but it is certain to be developed rapidly within the next few years.

A map which has been prepared of Penn Valley and which shows also the principal roads leading to and from the district was examined by the Committee and instructions were issued to have this map printed, and have copies sent to the membership and also to all transportation companies, express, postal and freight stations, bus lines, taxi lines, Philadelphia and Montgomery County merchants and to any others who might have reason to know of the new community.

The chairman of the Landscape Committee reported that the new marking signs will be erected within the next few weeks. He also reported that several hundred flowering cherry trees had been planted, bordering certain Penn Valley streets.

The president described the arrangements which have been made with the Bell Telephone Company for the listing of Penn Valley residents under the name Penn Valley. He also described the arrangements made with the Philadelphia Post Office for the delivery of mail to this new section.

M. R. Kondolf, who has been secretary of the association since its organization, resigned, and Dr. Gibson Bell, Head Master of the Montgomery School, consented to serve for the balance of the year 1930.

A letter from certain members of the association protesting against the storage of dynamite within the area in which the association is active was the subject of some discussion and it was formally voted to protest against the continuance of this nuisance within Penn Valley. It was also voted to urge the discontinuance of the piggeries which are now located within this area.

A general meeting of the membership of the association was called to be held on Wednesday evening, April 30, at 8 o'clock at the Montgomery School.

Six Teams to Compose Main Line League

The Main Line Baseball League will consist of a six-team circuit this season. This was officially decided upon at a meeting of representatives on Monday night at Davis', Narberth. They are Narberth, Berwyn, Brookline, Paoli, Media and the sixth team to be either from Manoa, Newtown Square or Ardmore.

Twenty-five men will be allowed each club. If substitutions are desired, two weeks' notice must be given. Philadelphia Association umpires will again be used in the league. Paoli and Brookline will be traveling clubs, the others to play on their home fields. Faster ball is promised for patrons of Main Line clubs this season by those managing the teams.

Candidates Wanted

Candidates for the Narberth baseball team are urged by Manager Gene Davis to show up at the first practice of the year to be held Saturday, April 20. Narberth's first practice game will be on May 10.

Lower Merion Wins and Loses in Week

Southern High Takes Close One,
4-3; Chester Beaten
11 to 4

HOW COLLEGES FARED

Lower Merion lost a close game to Southern High School last Friday, 4 to 3. They followed this loss with an impressive victory over Chester High on Tuesday of this week 11 to 4.

The Maroon led up until the seventh inning against Southern, when two errors coupled with a hit let in three runs. Parks held the city boys to few hits, but the usual schoolboy boots permitted the visitors to walk off with the close verdict. Lower Merion lost the services of Captain Henry Gane in this game as he had his little finger broken when a foul tip hit his knuckles. He finished the game but an X-ray picture showed the break.

The Chester game was full of sparkling plays, probably the one Warren Lockwood turned in being the prettiest. In the latter part of the game, the lanky first baseman dived for a hard grounder along the baseline and fielded it clean to put his man out at first. Roy Williams ran all the way back of first base to take a mean grounder, but he was unable to recover in time to throw to the bag.

Coach Cocklin's nine hit the ball hard and often. Lachman Reinhart, Roy Williams and Herb Thomas led in this department. Williams had two steaming doubles to right field.

Haverford Trims Moravian

The national sport was accorded its due last Saturday at Haverford College when the latter team trounced Moravian 15 to 5 in a game that was chock full of baschits and errors.

Supplee, the younger, pitched good ball for the winners with the exception of the third inning when all of the visitors' runs were scored. He fanned no fewer than 15 of his visiting opponents.

The Bethlehem collegians got all of their six hits in this third inning and after that were unable to solve the elongated Haverfordian for any further favors.

Young Tripp was the only member of the home team to go hitless. Irish Logan delivered four of the same, all singles. Longaker and Supplee each had three bingles.

Temple Beats Villanova

Villanova College lost the first tussle to Temple University in their two game series this season by a score of 8 to 2. Slim Williams, the Temple heaver, held the Main Liners to six hits, two of which were doubles by McAndrews. Flanagan, right fielder for the losers, delivered a double to the lost cause.

Valley Forge Is Victor

Valley Forge Military Academy opened the baseball season at Pottstown last Saturday by defeating the Hill School nine 7 to 2. Keefer pitched a good game for the Forgers, holding the Pottstown boys to four hits, and striking out five of them. Skowronk figured in the scoring with his two hits, one of which was a two-bagger. Howard had three hits for the winners.

"Time Out"

By Tommy Macklin

Bill Anderson brought the 1929-30 basketball season to a close last Saturday night by delivering a first-class speech at a banquet in Pottsville, Pa.

Coach Bill was the speaker of the occasion at the third Annual Banquet of the Schuylkill County Interscholastic Athletic League. He told the boys about the game of basketball since the days when peach baskets were the popular type of receivers for the loop-shot and the one-handed stab.

One-half of a "choice roast chicken" was the inducement which led the popular basketball mentor and his Right Bower and Timer, Jim Davis, to the coal zones.

We think the National Rules Committee made a good step last week when they abolished the double foul shot. After the shot, unless made, the ball is in play.

This will speed up the game considerably and improve officiating, we think.

The centre jump is still a matter of controversy, however, and there has been no improvement in it in recent years.

The moguls have managed to mess it up somewhat with each succeeding ruling.

We see only one thing to do with the centre jump. Here it is:

The jump must be made with one hand touching the small of the back and only one tap of the ball. After it has been tapped, neither centre can touch the ball until it has been handled by a forward or guard. Sold.

"Masters goes around end for fifteen yards." "Masters puzzles Cornell with his fast curves."

Sounds like the old days, not so old, when young Walter was cavorting around the athletic field up at Haverford Prep, where he used to win football games, baseball games and track meets for the Inter-Ac Leaguers.

Masters had no superior as a ball totter and all around back in football last season.

Of course, Grantland Rice didn't see it that way, but then our opinion is just as good, though it doesn't go as far, nor stay as long.

Not yet.

Coach Warren Cocklin's beginners brought their baseball season up to sea level last Tuesday afternoon when they shellacked Chester 11 to 4, in a Suburban League game.

Keith Parks looked like a baseball pitcher after the first inning. He had a fast ball with a rise like a tidal wave.

And a fast curve that broke like the stock market.

Lachman Reinhart, son of Frank Reinhart, of the Senior High faculty, hits in the clean-up position on this year's team.

Lachman is the finest looking hitter we have seen at the high school in years. When he lays a club against a ball it travels hard and far, and that happens quite often.

Lower Merion has a good chance in the league this year, in spite of their unnecessary loss to Norristown in the opener.

George School Surprised by Maroon Trackmen

Coach Adam's trackmen surprised many of the dopesters last Saturday by handing George School their first defeat on the cinder paths in five years. To do this, Lower Merion had to capture seven first places. The final score was 66 to 51.

Captain Ralph Warner was the only double winner of the afternoon, placing first in the 220 and 440 yard dashes. Dick Sigel took first in the shotput and second place in the discus heave. Herb Young captured the century, Meeks the 220 low hurdles, and Bob Carver the broad jump.

Parks, Rockwell, Hicks, Parkinson, Bowman, Ridge, Peters and Hansell helped the score along with their second and third place contributions.

JAMES I. COMLY

Mr. Comly, who was born in the 38th Ward, was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Law School. He was a member of the Union League, Germantown Cricket Club, Corinthian Yacht Club, City Club, the Lawyers' Club of New York, and the American Academy of Political and Social Science. Alert Officer Forestalls Business House Robbery

The alert vigilance of Officer August W. Baily, newly-appointed member of the borough police force, forestalled the robbery of a store in the Haverford Avenue business section last Sunday night.

A man was seen on the roof of Chris Koch's drug store, 238 Haverford Avenue, by Officer Baily, who immediately notified Ardmore police headquarters. On seeing Baily, the man jumped off the roof and disappeared. Within five minutes a truck with Lieutenant Duke, a sergeant and six patrolmen were on the spot, but they were unable to locate the trespasser. The store had not been entered.

Change Summer Collection Schedule

At the April meeting of Council on Monday evening, a letter was read from J. B. MacKenzie, president of the Narbrook Park Association, with reference to putting Narbrook Park on the same basis as the other streets in the borough. The communication was referred to the Highway Committee.

A recommendation of the Highway Committee that collections of rubbish during the summer months be made every other week instead of once a month, was approved. The complete report follows:

"Your Committee on Highways and Sewers submits the following report for the month of March and wishes also to make the following recommendations:—

"We recommend that we be authorized to spend not more than $75 for the installation of an inlet in the gutter on the east side of Essex Avenue at a low spot approximately midway between the Post Office and the rear of Mr. Ricklin's store.

"We also recommend that we be authorized to spend not more than $250 to remove entirely the two depressed gutters at the intersection of Windsor and Grayling Avenues.

"We recommend that the present winter schedule of ash and rubbish collections be discontinued on May 31, and that the summer schedule this year should provide for collections every other week instead of once a month as in the past. The following is the schedule of weeks which we propose to adopt for the summer collection: Weeks of June 9 and 23; July 7 and 21; August 4 and 18; September 1 and 15. The winter schedule would be resumed on September 29 and continue weekly thereafter.

"Our total labor expense for the month of March was $1080, divided as follows: For collecting 849 cubic yards of ashes and rubbish, $754.50; for cleaning streets and storm sewer inlets, $305.50; for street maintenance, $20. Last month we installed an inlet at the northeast corner of Price and Essex Avenues at a cost of $24.80 for materials and $13.68 for labor."

Masque of Composers

A musical play called "A Masque of Composers," given by the junior pupils of the Main Line School of Music, Ardmore, last Thursday afternoon, was witnessed by quite a large and enthusiastic audience. The pupils acted their parts splendidly and the costumes were very picturesque.

Children Entertain Parents and Teachers

With a varied program depicting various phases of their work, the pupils of the Narberth School entertained the Parent-Teachers' Association Monday afternoon. The regular meeting date of the association was advanced one week from Easter Monday.

The program was carried out before an audience which filled every seat in the auditorium, opening with exercises by the sixth grade girls. The children from the kindergarten presented a dramatization of Little Red Riding Hood—wolf and all, and seemed to enjoy playing as much as the audience enjoyed watching.

Then there were brief, interesting glimpses of such substantial subjects as reading, spelling and arithmetic. Afterwards the visitors heard the fourth grade children study a new song with Miss Fricke.

The seventh grade girls danced an Irish lilt and made everyone hold their breath while they walked back and forth on balance boards.

Last of all was tumbling by sixth and seventh grade boys. Mr. Wetherill mentioned tumbling as an excellent reducing exercise. Could that have been the reason for the breathless attention and great applause? The Parent-Teacher Association is indebted to the children for a very enjoyable afternoon.

Hear Welfare Talk

The Sub-Juniors of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth were entertained last Monday by Kenneth L. M. Pray, who gave a talk on community welfare. A larger attendance is desired at the next meeting.

Protest Explosive Magazine in Penn Valley Section

Croyle affirms that this shack has been filled to capacity with black powder and percussion caps. The concrete pill box, the main storage magazine, is used as the dynamite warehouse. Trucks have been seen coming down the narrow, rough road at high speed, loaded with cases of explosives which are deposited in the magazine.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Penn Valley Association last Wednesday evening, it was voted to formally protest against "the continuance of this nuisance."

The matter was called to the attention of Superintendent Charles P. Smith, of the Lower Merion Police, by Mr. Mancil whose letter, in part, follows: "In view of the recent catastrophe at Devon, I think it would be well to look into this matter. The township dump is nearby and is a fire most of the time and either the spread of this fire or the loading or unloading of other explosives or the work of a fanatic would set off this magazine. What supervision do we have in the matter? Will you kindly present the question at the next meeting of the Police and Fire Committee."

The magazine is said to have been located at its present situation or nearby for approximately twenty years. It was there when the property was acquired by the township. The wooden shack is of recent construction.

Following the receipt of Mr. Mancil's letter an investigation was commenced by Superintendent Smith. "We are going into the matter thoroughly," the Superintendent said, "and will see that nothing is left undone in the way of safeguards and precautions." Examination of Government methods of storing explosives at Fort Mifflin on the Delaware, the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot, and at du Pont's was made by Superintendent Smith.

The concrete pill box, used as the dynamite storage warehouse, was said by the Superintendent to be all that a dynamite storage magazine should be. It has, he said, two natural barricades. An embankment rises in back of it and the ground in front is full of trees, which according to expert opinion, make a fine barricade.

The wooden shack, used as the black powder warehouse, was not found by the police investigators to be in such good shape and steps will be taken to have this remedied.

According to Superintendent Smith the average quantity of explosives kept in the two magazines is three to four hundred pounds of dynamite and the same amount of black powder.

Board of Trade Holds Informal Talk Meeting

Informal discussion of business problems and achievements by some of the members featured the April meeting of the Narberth Board of Trade, held in Elm Hall Monday night. George Dando, Maurice Fried, Ralph S. Dunne and Colonel A. A. Kiesler expressed their views on subjects ranging from buying children's wearing apparel to selling coal and groceries.

Decision was made to abandon contemplated publication of a small booklet giving a listing of business houses in the borough, and announcement was made of a new policy to be followed at future meetings. For some time hereafter, it was decided, co-operative sales promotion work will be dropped, and the meetings each month will be devoted entirely to discussion of individual business problems and other matters affecting the Narberth business district.
